PREVENTING FALL OF WARSAW TASK OF THE RUSSIANS

Military Critics Regard it as A Feat Well Nigh Impossible

IS NEARLY SURROUNDED

Austro-German Forces Gradually Drawing Their Lines Together

ORDER TO EVACUATE WARSAW, IS REPORT

London, July 20.—The Morning Post's Budapest correspondent reports that the gradual evacuation of Warsaw has been ordered by the Russians.

London, July 19.—Can Warsaw be held? With the German field marshals, Von Hindenburg on the north, and Von Mackensen on the south, whipping forward the two ends of a great arc around the city, it is realized in England that Grand Duke Nicholas, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies, has the most severe task imposed on him since the outbreak of the European war. Military writers of some of the London papers seem to think that his task is well nigh impossible.

There was sustained confidence that Germany's previous violent attacks along the Bzura-Rawka front would never pierce the Russian line, but the present colossal coordinate movement was developed with such suddenness and carried so far without meeting serious Russian resistance that more and more the British press is discounting the fall of the Polish capital, and while not giving up all hope of its retention, is pointing out the enormous sufficiently tightened Warsaw must go bored under from the start by the existence of such a salient.

Unable to Straighten Lines.

Having been unable to straighten out their line by an advance through East Prussia, in the north, and Galicia in the south, the Russians have perpetually faced the pincers of the Austro-Germans and if these can now be sufficiently tightened Wrasaw must go and with it the entire line.

As was the case on Saturday, when the Austro-Germans recorded the success of their offensive in the east, no official communication from either Berlin or Vienna reached the London newspapers today. Saturday's communication was released Sunday for publication, and up to nearly midnight tonight, no new communication has come to hand. In the absence of additional official information from Petrograd, there is nothing to throw fresh light on the eastern front, but the Austro-German advance could hardly so soon have lost its momentum.

According to the latest advices, the Austro-German forces advancing from Przasnysz were within 40 miles of Warsaw; while to the south Von Mackensen's center was, at certain points, within ten miles of the Lublin-Cholm railroad.

PAPER MAKES ANOTHER PLEA FOR COTTON AS CONTRABAND.

Editorial in London Times Says America Has No Right to Object.

London, July 19.—In an editorial today The Times makes another plea for making contraband of cotton. The newspaper refers to its Washington correspondent's report that the American government refuses to admit the legality of the British blockade and that the British government's objections had not had the slightest effect in changing American opinion on the right of exports to neutral countries.

Arguing at considerable length that Great Britain acquiesced in the American government's extension of the blockade during the Civil War The Times says:

"Surely the Americans will not dispute that we have the right of extension which they have so widely asserted and exercised themselves. If cotton could be regarded as contraband in the 60's merely because it enabled the belligerents to buy ammunition, how much more certainly can it be so regarded now that it has become a necessary ingredient in the manufacture of explosives?

"It cannot be doubted that cotton is finding its way into Germany in large quantities.

"Arrangements ought to be practicable under which cotton growers would suffer no loss. We cannot for any consideration refrain from keeping back indispensable material for the dead list of weapons with which the Germans are slaughtering our sons."

ROOSEVELT EXPECTS TO SAY SOMETHING OCCASIONALLY.

But, He Says, It Will Not be for "Sap Heads or Mollycoddles."

Portland, Ore., July 19.—"From time to time I shall have something to say on affairs of vital interest to the nation, but it will not be for sapheads or mollycoddles," said Theodore Roosevelt here today when a large cheering crowd compelled him to acknowledge its greeting. Colonel Roosevelt warned his hearers not to believe any reports regarding him which they might hear at second or third hand. He train then left for San Francisco.

FEARS AGAIN FELT FOR MEXICO CITY

Another Battle by the Zapata Forces is Imminent.

FOOD BEING CUT OFF

Zapatistas Are Menacing Railroad Communication Between Capital and Vera Cruz—Villa Marching on Capital.

Washington, July 19.—Mexico City is again threatened with attack, and the Carranza forces under General Gonzalez who drove the Zapata army from the capital ten days ago have marched hurriedly northward to engage an advancing Villa guard, believed to be planning a junction with the Zapata troops, now menacing communication with Vera Cruz.

State Department dispatches today announced that General Gonzalez with most of his army had evacuated Mexico City yesterday, turning the government over to the civil authorities. This was just preceded by advices that General Villa's flying column which circled Obregon's forces after the battle of Aguas Calientes and captured Queretaro, had taken possession of Pachuca within forty miles of Mexico City and was marching on the capital. Simultaneously with the latter report came the news that General Zapata had taken possession of the reconstructed railroad east of Apizaca, a junction point south of Pachuca and had ordered that it be held exclusively for transportation of troops and ammunition, thus preventing further shipment of provisions from Vera Cruz to the needy thousands at Mexico City.

Officials here made no effort to conceal their belief that the situation surrounding the Mexican capital was a grave one. With another battle for possession of the city imminent, and with much needed food shipments from the east coast cut off, further suffering among the civil population was feared.

General Gonzalez's sudden evacuation of the city in an effort to head off the invading Villa forces, together with Carranza's action in closing the railroad to freight and passenger traffic, it is feared here, will make further relief work at the capital practically impossible until some other climatic development in the situation has occurred.

ADEQUATE PROTECTION DOUBTED

Gonzalez's Forces Outside Capital Probably Not Strong Enough.

Washington, July 19.—A summary of dispatches from Mexico, issued tonight by the State Department, contained an announcement by General Gonzalez that sufficient garrison had been left in the city and surroundigs in "order to afford proper protection to the people," but notwithstanding this assertion of Gonzalez, officials here were inclined to doubt that the forces was sufficient to prevent trouble or to maintain order in the capital.

Pachua is on the direct line of the railroad between Queretaro and Mexico City, though east of the former city and northeast of the capital. Villa's column is reported to number 1,000 men. Private advices reaching Washington declare that this army left Queretaro after attacking Carranza's forces in the capital, expected to seize Pacha as a base of operations and affect a junction with Zapata.

Secretary Lansing tonight would not discuss the recall from Mexico City of American Consul General Arnold Shanklin, further than to say that he was returning to Washington. It is understood, however, that differences arose between Mr. Shanklin and the Brazilian minister at the capital who has charge of American affairs, and that Mr. Shanklin was recalled to avoid embarrassments.

CONDITION OF FRANK CONTINUES CRITICAL

Possible Blood-Poisoning is Greatest Danger.

Creen Says He Believes He Was Called "From on High" to Perform the Deed and Wishes He Could Have Killed Frank.

Milledgeville, Ga., July 19.—The condition of Leo M. Frank, suffering from a serious knife wound in the throat, inflicted by William Creen, a fellow life term convict at the Georgia prison farm here, remained critical tonight. Dr. G. D. Compton, the prison physician, announced, however, that he was hopeful of Frank's recovery. Possible blood poisoning from infection is one of the chief dangers, he said.

Creen, questioned further by prison officials today, said he believed that he had been called "from on high" to kill Frank, whose death sentence for Mary Phagan's murder recently was commuted by Governor Slaton, now retired. He indicated no remorse, as he had done immediately after the attack Saturday night.

"I only wish that I had had more strength," Creen said. "I think I have done my duty in this matter as well as my strength allowed. I believe

AMERICAN TROOPS ALREADY AT NACO

Will Protect Lives and Property of Americans

SKIRMISH ON STREETS

Carranza Followers Occupy the Town, Eleven Villa Civil Guards Arrested Across Boundary by U. S. Cavalry—Damage.

Naco, Mex., July 19.—The Villa loss in the skirmish today in the streets preceding the occupation of the town by Carranza followers, was one killed and seven wounded. The Carranza force lost one wounded. Eleven Villa civil guards who fled across the international boundary were taken prisoner by United States cavalry.

Lorenzo Coronado, commissary of the Villa customs department, was killed near the international boundary line where a small group of officials made their last stand against the invaders.

The dead and wounded were brought to the American side where order was maintained by the 10th cavalry. About $25,000 worth of property and liquor was destroyed by the Carranza troops.

U. S. TROOPS AT NACO.

Are There to Protect Lives and Property of Americans.

Washington, July 19.—Under the agreement entered into last January by General Hill, the Carranza commander, and Governor Maytorena, Naco was to be evacuated by Hill and remain a neutral port with civil police and customs officers appointed by Maytorena in charge. No contraband of war was to be sent through the port by either side.

The agreement was negotiated through Major Gen. Hugh Scott, chief of staff of the United States army, who undertook the role of mediator to put an end to fighting on the border and the consequent falling of bullets and shells into American territory.

Just before Hill's evacuation, both sides had been warned that further firing across the border would result in action by United States troops stationed on the American side. The 10th cavalry is now at Naco, and Col. Guilfoyle, commanding, has general instructions to protect American lives and property in any emergency.

No report on today's development had reached the War Department tonight.

THREE BROTHERS SENTENCED TO BE HUNG FOR MURDER.

Charged With Killing Mr. and Mrs. Weimann, Near Milton, Fla.

Milton, Fla., July 19.—James, Percy and Brady Roberts, brothers, were sentenced here today to be hanged for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Weimann, shot to death a month ago while asleep in their cottage near here. Weimann was 82 years old and his wife 80. Robbery is believed to have been the motive for the crime.

Two other men are to be tried in connection with the killing.

SIMMONS AND GODWIN AT WHITE HOUSE TODAY

Neither Thinks Extra Session of Congress Necessary

Report in Washington That Tar Heels of All Parties Have Great Faith in Wilson's Ability to Handle Situation.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., July 19.—United States Senator Simmons and Representative Godwin, who are here on departmental business, told officials of the administration that North Carolinians, irrespective of political affiliations, have great faith in the ability of President Wilson to handle the delicate foreign situation and approve of his policy so far.

Neither Senator Simmons nor Representative Godwin believes that it will be necessary to call Congress in extra session before December 1. They are not among those senators and congressmen who are urging the President to have Congress meet before the regular term to take action to prevent the shipment from this country of arms and ammunition to the warring nations. A movement was started some days ago by the New York American and a few senators to urge the President to take this course.

Senator Simmons and Representative Godwin will call at the White House tomorrow.

Senator Hoke Smith and a few of his following want an extra session but there is no one here who believes it will be called unless it be to authorize the President to declare war. This is not anticipated now.

Mrs. Joseph A. Holmes, widow of the late Dr. Holmes, will leave here in a few days for Banners Elk, N. C., to spend the remainder of the summer. She will be accompanied by the children. Holmes will visit her brother, J. H. Hall. While definite for the future have not been upon, it is probable that Mrs will continue to make Washher home. P. R. Al

EIGHT SCIENTIFIC SOCIETIES TO NAME SIXTEEN MEMBERS

Will Serve With Edison on Advisory Board for Navy Invention Bureau.

REQUEST OF DANIELS

The Secretary Asks for Two Members From Each of the Societies.

Washington, July 19.—Sixteen American scientists to form, with Thomas A. Edison as chairman, the advisory board for the proposed bureau of invention in the Navy Department, will be selected by leading scientific societies of the country. Secretary Daniels announced today he had written to the presidents of eight societies asking that two members be selected by each organization to become members of the board.

Following are societies addressed:

American Chemical Society, President Charles H. Harty, Chapel Hill, N. C.; American Institute of Electrical Engineering, President Paul M. Lincoln, Pittsburg; American Institute of Mining Engineers, President Benjamin B. Thayer, New York city; American Mathematical Society, President E. W. Brown, Yale University; American Society of Civil Engineers, President Hunter MacDonald, Nashville, Tenn.; American Society of Mechanical Engineers, President James Hartness, Springfield, Vermont; American Aeronautical Society, Acting President Fredrick W. Barker, New York city; Inventor's Guild, President Edward Weston, Newark, N. J.

About Men in Country.

"Much depends on the personnel of the committee," Mr. Daniels said, in announcing his plan, "and I have been desirous first of all that it should be made up of the ablest men in the country who have demonstrated their leadership in their professional.

"After consulting with eminent men in the navy and civilian life, I have decided to ask eight societies having lasting memberships, each to select two men which will make up the advisory committee.

In this way I feel sure we will have the hearty co-operation of thousands of trained experts who make up their membership. The members of these societies will naturally see to it that their most eminent representatives are chosen. We will therefore obtain for the navy the direct advice of those selected to serve on the committee and also the interest of all the members of the societies who make the selection."

Mr. Daniels explained that the selection of the eight societies did not exclude other organizations of the same character which it might be found advisable to call upon later. He said that societies of marine engineers in many cases composed largely of present and former navy officers, had not been included for the reason that naval officers would constitute the new bureau within the department which the committee would aid. In his letter to the presidents the secretary wrote:

Letters to Society Presidents.

"I am writing to ask the membership of your society to give practicable and valuable aid and needed co-operation by selecting representatives of their body to serve as members of the advisory committee. * * * * I am going to ask you by a poll by letter of your members or in whatever way seems to you most certain of securing the men desired by the majority of your organization, to choose two of your members to serve on this board, and it will give pleasure when you have furnished me these names to extend the gentlemen the formal invitation of the department.

"We are anxious to begin as soon as possible and if your society can furnish the names at an early date it will help the prompt organization of the advisory board very much. In adopting this course I have the emphatic approval of Mr. Edison and he agrees entirely with me that your society should be represented in this way and no better method of getting the kind of men could be devised."

ACCOUNT OF ATTACK.

Italian Squadron Runs Into Bee Hive of Austrian Battleships.

Rome, July 19, via London, July 20.—An Italian cruiser squadron comprising the Varez, Francesco Ferrucio, Guiseppe Garibaldi and the Vetter Pisani, proceeded at an early hour Sunday morning to Cattaro, an Austrian seaport in Dalmatia and opened fire.

During the course of the operations the Italian commander discovered that a number of Austrian battleships had taken refuge in the harbor and these, although not of modern type, would have been able effectively to face the somewhat slow Italian squadron. Hence, the Italian cruisers retired. As the cruisers were withdrawing, Austrian submarines were sent out to attack them. According to the official report the Guiseppe Garibaldi was torpedoed and sank. The crew jumped into the sea and the majority of them were saved.

ITALIAN CRUISER SUNK.

Successful Attack of Austrian Submarine is Reported.

Berlin, July 19 (by Wireless to Sayville)—The following official communication was received here today from Vienna under date of July 18:

"An Austrian submarine this morning torpedod and sank south of Ragusa the Italian cruiser Giuseppe Garibaldi. The cruiser foundered within 15 minutes."

BRITAIN FOLLOWS DANIELS' EXAMPLE

Will Mobilize English Inventive Ingenuity.

IDEA OF LORD BRYCE

Invention Board of Scientific Men Appointed, With Former Sea Lord at Its Head, to Assist the British Navy.

London, July 19.—The appointment of an invention board of scientific men, with Lord Fisher, recently first sea lord of the admiralty, at its head, to assist the British navy, was largely the result of a suggestion made by Lord Bryce, former ambassador to the United States, to the house of lords and followed upon a discussion in which similar proposals were made by Sir William Ramsay and the other eminent scientists.

Lord Bryce pointed out that the country needed not only fighting men, but should mobilize its inventive ingenuity in the whole range of science. While the American navy was a few days ahead of the British in launching this plan, according to the cables, its inception in both cases was due to the lessons of the war.

The admiralty received 16,000 offers of new scientific devices during the first five months of the war. Many were from Americans. Another 16,000 doubtless came under the stimulus of the last five months. Of the first 16,000 a board reduced to 25 the number which in the board's judgment were worthy of attention. Another board has scrutinized these 25 more rigidly and reduced them to just two. These two are being worked out with every precaution of secrecy and every prospect, it is declared, of giving a surprise in mechanical warfare exceeding anything produced by German ingenuity.

Elaborate trials have been made of one of these devices in English waters and in actual service at the Dardanelles. It is said the trials give promise of rendering a battleship immune from the submarine torpedo.

"It is the scientific men who first use their brains in thinking out all the remarkable devices which are revolutionizing modern warfare and then the ordinary agencies of the government merely carry out and apply what science has devised," said Lord Bryce.

"It is the same in war as in peace. The inventive genius of men like the late Professor Langley, of the Smithsonian Institute—the pioneer of aviation—and Bell and Edison and many of our own men, points the way to some great system in controlling the forces of nature and after that it remains only for the ordinary branches of government or commerce to apply what the scientific brain has conceived."

Asheville, N. C., July 19.—The Missionary Conference of the Southern Methodist church which has been in session at Lake Junaluska for ten days closed tonight with an address by Bishop J. W. Bachelord, of the Methodist Episcopal church, with headquarters at Peking, China. The bishop declared that war between the white and yellow races is inevitable unless the white race allows the nations of the east more territory.

BRITISH GOVERNMENT ASKS INVESTIGATION

Activities German Sympathizers in This Country.

State Department Has Called Upon Department of Justice to Make Inquiry as to Conduct of Certain Persons.

Washington, July 19.—At the instance of the British government, the State Department has called upon the Department of Justice to investigate the activities of certain German sympathizers in the United States who are alleged to have been employing unlawful means to strike at Great Britain and her allies.

Until the inquiry has developed, whether there is sufficient evidence to warrant prosecutions, no names will be made public and officials of the departments as well as those of the British embassy are reticent about discussing the matter. It is known, however, that information has reached the embassy concerning all kinds of plots, ranging from schemes to wreck bridges over which railroad trains were carrying volunteers to the British army to the incitement of strikes at American industrial plants making war supplies for the Allies.

All evidence furnished by the British embassy will be turned over to the Department of Justice, which will conduct the inquiry throughout its bureau of investigations. This bureau and the United States secret service as well have been conducting widespread investigations on their own initiative and several prosecutions already have resulted. It is understood that stories of plots to blow up British ships at sea have been carefully looked into and that scores of suspects have been under surveillance in various parts of the country.

According to reports today in official circles, some persons of high repute in American business circles have been mentioned in reports transmitted by the British government, but their names are being jealously guarded, pending the outcome of the investigation.

TAKES STEPS TO BRING PEACE AT BRIDGEPORT

SAMUEL GOMPERS.

Samuel Gompers, head of organized labor in America, announced last night that he had called a conference of officers of the Machinists' union to meet with him in Washington to consider the strike ordered at the Remington plant. He reiterated the charge that foreign interests had sought to bring about labor troubles in the United States to check the exportation of war supplies to Europe.

DRAFT OF NOTE IS READY FOR CABINET

It is Understood Reply Will be Brief.

REITERATE POSITION

Conclusions of American Government as Result of Germany's Failure to Comply With Demands the Only Expression.

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson and Secretary Lansing prepared today the draft of a note on submarine warfare to be submitted to the Cabinet tomorrow and to be sent to Germany possibly before the end of the present week.

Beyond the fact that the position already taken by the United States in its previous notes will be reiterated, no information was forthcoming at either the White House or State Department concerning the probable contents of the new note.

The President cautioned those with whom he counselled to refrain from discussing the note in advance of its dispatch to Germany, and White House officials particularly requested the correspondents to avoid speculations in detail at this time because the character of the document had not been finally determined.

The note, it is understood, will be comparatively brief, expressing the conclusions of this government as a result of Germany's failure to give the assurances asked for in previous notes, namely that the lives of Americans traveling on the high seas bound on lawful errands aboard unresisting and unarmed merchantmen be not endangered.

As yet the case of the British liner Orduna, attacked by a German submarine, has not been brought officially to the attention of the State Department. Secretary Lansing said today he had expected word from some of the American passengers aboard but if this failed to arrive in another day or two, he would request one of the departments of the government to institute an investigation to obtain accurate information concerning the incident.

GERMAN GUN MAKERS STRIKE IS PROBABLE

Many Have Already Quit Work, is the Report.

Minor Cases of Disorder at the Krupp Works—100,000 Men Involved and Germany's Munitions Supply Would be Affected.

Geneva, Switz., July 19, via Paris—An important meeting was held at Essen, according to advices received at Basel, between the administration of the Krupp gun works and the representatives of the workmen, in order to settle the dispute which has arisen over the demands of the men for wage increases.

Directly and indirectly about 100,000 men are involved. Minor cases in which the machinery has been destroyed has been reported.

The military authorities, before the meeting, the Basel advices say, warned both sides that unless an immediate arrangement was reached drastic measures would be employed.

The Krupp officials are understood to have granted a portion of the demands of the employes which has brought about a temporary peace, but the workmen still appear to be unsatisfied and many have left the works.

The strike would greatly affect the supply of munitions and for this reason, the military has adopted rigorous precautions.

REMINGTON STRIKE AMONG MACHINISTS WILL BEGIN TODAY

Leaders Announce 500 Employees Will Lay Down Tools at Noon.

OTHERS WILL FOLLOW

Strike Will Exist Throughout Plant Within a Week, It is Said.

Bridgeport, Conn., July 19.—Negotiations to bring about a settlement of the difficulties between the machinists of Bridgeport and the Remington Arms & Ammunition Company, engaged on a gigantic scale in the manufacture of war munitions for the allied armies, have failed.

Labor leaders announced tonight that the first of the machinists would throw down their tools and walk out at noon tomorrow and that within a week all work in the Remington shops and in the shops of sub-contractors would be at a standstill.

Just how far the strike might spread in other manufacturing communities of New England the labor leaders were unable to estimate.

The announcement was made by John A. Johnston, vice president of the Structural Iron Workers, after a meeting in the machinists' hall, which was attended by members of the machinists' union and by more than a dozen heads of international labor organizations. Mr. Johnston said that at 4 o'clock this afternoon "the last moment of the time we agreed to allow the man I conferred with in New York in which to arrange a settlement, if he possibly could, I was called on the telephone. The man said this to me:

"I cannot do anything. I have tried my best. You can suit yourself as to any action you will take'."

Mr. Johnston refused to divulge the name of the man, stating that had he brought about a peaceful settlement he was prepared to give him the credit, but that as he has failed it was best that his name remain unknown.

"The strike will start at noon tomorrow," Mr. Johnston said. "We will call all of the men out of the new Remington plant. That includes all machinists, die sinkers, die makers, drop forgers and tool makers."

It was said that it was planned to have in the neighborhood of 500 men walk out at first. Then one after another of the various shops would be emptied of machinists. The hod carriers working on the new buildings being erected by the Steward Construction Company for the Remington Company have already taken a strike vote to follow the machinists out.

In addition there is one sub-contracting shop which the leaders declined to name, where the machinists will walk out tomorrow. In this shop, they said, one or two men had been discharged and the rest of the workers were dissatisfied.

Unless the plans of the labor organizations miscarry tomorrow or there is some unexpected development which speedily leads to a settlement of the demands of the machinists, 1,500 men at least are likely to be on strike by tomorrow night.

No Attention to Gompers' Call.

J. J. Keppler, international vice president of the Machinists' Union, when advised of the call for a conference issued tonight in Washington by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, said that he and other labor leaders here would pay no attention to any such call.

"Neither Samuel Gompers, nor the President of the United States can stop this strike now," he said.

Mr. Keppler said in his announcement that "this is the biggest job we have ever undertaken in this country." He then continued:

"At this point I want to make one statement most emphatic. I want it known that if there is a big argument in this town the people of Bridgeport have no one to blame but Major Penfield. We have tried in every way to bring about a peaceful settlement. We want peace, but it looks as if we can not have it. As for the statement made by Major Penfield that German influence brought about this situation, I want to say this: If anyone forced the issue it was Major Penfield. We tried to confer with him. Even the United States government recognizes the right of the employe to confer with the employer. Major Penfield has denied us that right."

Mr. Keppler declined to say what other shops would be called out if the men in the new plant of the Remington company went on strike, but added that "within a week we will have all the manufactories in the city tied up."

Manufacturers to Stand Together.

The Bridgeport Manufacturers' Association, at a meeting today, according to a statement given out by the secretary afterward, determined to stand as a body behind the Remington company in its decision to maintain an open shop. In regard to this statement Mr. Keppler said:

"There was no mention of closed or open shops in Bridgeport until the manufacturers' association made that statement today. As a matter of fact it was the Remington company or the Stewart company, or both, that started closed shop methods. They told the millwrights that they would have to join the carpenters' union or quit. That was what started all this trouble.

"In the carpenters' union they would receive $3.75 per day. In the machinists' union, where they belong, they would receive $5. I should think that would be sufficient answer to the charge that German influences were behind the movement," added Mr. Keppler. "We did not start the thing.

H. D. Farrah, white, is in jail on a charge of having assaulted a female and also on a warrant sworn out by his wife charging him with violating the peace. He lives on the northeast corner of Front and Dock streets and besides his wife and daughter other members of the family include his mother-in-law and her mother. The reports of the disturbance are rather conflicting but there seems to have been considerable trouble and his wife's grandmother received a rather painful wound on her hand. THEATRICAL Charming, beautiful, handsome Helen Gardner is the star in a three-reel Broadway Vitagraph feature, "Miss Jekyll and Madame Hyde," on at the Grand today. Just imagine a young girl stepping from the quiet seclusion of the convent into her father's luxurious home and the conventional life of the world, and you will have a picture of Madeline Jekyll. She meets Baron Stana, a sinister, yet distinguished looking man and finds her father has promised her hand in marriage to Daggerts, a powerful politician, who, in reward, has agreed to see that Jekyll is elected governor. Now you have the plot in brief, and with such a notable cast as Helen Gardner, Paul Scardon, J. H. Lewis, Gladden James and Roland Osborne, the balance is left to your own judgment as to the quality this cast is capable of producing. The production is under the personal direction of the well known producer, Mr. Chas. L. Gaskill.

"Life's Mysteries," is the title of a Mina comedy which is also part of today's program, and the first taken at the new Mina studio at Los Angeles so you can expect to see a rousing comedy that will please beyond a doubt.
Just four more days and then you will see the wonderful "Goddess," that the whole world is talking about. It is positively the greatest of all serials. Friday is the day at the Grand, featuring Earle Williams and Anita Stewart.

The Bijou Today.

Years ago the classiest melodrama on the speaking stage was played by the eminent Shapercan, Robert Manteil, in every hamlet, town and city in the United States. The title was "The Marble Heart." In a remarkable four-reel production at the Bijou today you can see this great dramatic spectacle reproduced with a lavishness of scenery that was impossible on the speaking stage, and with the leading part in the hands of no less an eminent star than the great King Baggot, who has triumphed in some of filmdom's greatest productions within the past few years.
It is a great play, gorgeous in the extreme, with wonderful settings. The story is too well known to need an introduction, but it depicts the conflict between a heart of stone and a great and noble love which is as vital today as it was in ancient Greece. It is a production that will hold your undivided attention throughout the entire four reels, giving you a solid hour of enjoyment such as you seldom experience in viewing a motion picture.

RESOLUTION FOR DISMISSAL OF COMMISSIONER CLAXTON.

Because of Sentiment Uttered in Speech Derogatory to American Flag.

Portland, Ore., July 19.—A resolution that the President be asked to dismiss P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, because of sentiment derogatory to the United States flag he was reported to have expressed in a speech two years ago in Boston, caused a commotion today at the first session of the twenty-sixth annual congress of the Sons of the American Revolution.
The resolution was introduced by Christopher W. Horr, of Seattle. It was greeted with hisses, but was finally referred to the resolutions committee without debate.
In his Boston speech, Commissioner Claxton said, according to an excerpt read in the convention:
"After all, the people of the world care very little what flag they live under. A flag means nothing. It is not a reality. They can live under one combination of colors as well as under another."

Washington, July 19.—President Wilson will discuss with Miss Jane Addams, of Chicago, Wednesday the outlook for peace in Europe. Miss Addams recently returned home after visiting the principal officials of many of the belligerent and neutral nations abroad as the representative of a women's peace movement. The President has been informed from other sources that there is little prospect of an early peace in Europe.

DR. CHAPMAN CLOSES MEETING AT MONTREAT

Conducts Services for a Week, Assisted by Alexander

Woman's Summer School of Missions of Montreat During This Week. Speakers of National Note on Programme.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Black Mountain, N. C., July 19.—Dr. J. Wilbur Chapman, the world-renowned evangelist, assisted by Chas. M. Alexander and his band of singers, has just concluded a series of services at Montreat that proved among the most profitable that have ever been held at this summer mecca of Southern Presbyterians. Dr. Chapman preached the first sermon of the series Sunday morning, July 11, and he closed the meeting Saturday morning, July 18. The music under the direction of Dr. Alexander was very enjoyable, especially the solos by Mr. Brown.

The Woman's Summer school of Missions began Sunday night at 8 o'clock. This summer school is held under the auspices of the Woman's Council of the Presbyterian church of the United States. The first address was made by Dr. O. E. Brown, of Vanderbilt University, professor of church history in that institution. His subject was "Christ and Chinese Womanhood."

First on the program today was foreword by the chairman of the Woman's council, Mrs. Archibald Davis, of Atlanta, Ga. Following this the young people's mission study was taken up and the first lesson studied. In addition to the mission study there will be a course in the art of story telling.

At the end of the Bible study hour there was a very interesting address by Miss Mary Wallace Kirk, of Tuscumbit, Ala., on the subject "Practical Talk on Literature and Secretaries of Literature." Miss Kirk has a wonderful personality and is full of enthusiasm for her work. The last thing on the program for each morning is the mission study class, which is conducted by Miss Emma Roberts, of Atlanta.

Tuesday morning the address just following the Bible study will be delivered by Mrs. W. C. Winsborough, the efficient superintendent of the program committee. "Woman's Supreme Opportunity," will be the subject of the address. Mrs. Winsborough has long been in the forefront in the work of the women of the Presbyterian church.

The address Tuesday night will be on the subject, "America Leading the World, But Whither?" The speaker will be Rev. A. D. P. Gilmer, of Chester, S. C.

Wednesday morning the address at the morning hour will be on "The Relation of the Organized Bible Class to the Woman's Auxiliary." At night the principal address will be made by Dr. D. H. Rolston, of Charlotte. He will have for his theme "The Education of Our Sons and Daughters." Dr. Rolston has had long experience in the ministry and has successfully dealt with large numbers of young people.

"Parliamentary Law and the Woman's Society," will be the subject of the address at the 10:30 hour Thursday morning. In addition to the address there will be a story telling for the children. Story telling has been given special attention at the conferences at Montreat and the children have been having the greatest times of their lives at these hours.

The concluding address of the day will be made at 8 o'clock by Rev. William A. Crowe, of Memphis, Tenn. "The Aged Watchman; Do We Owe Him Anything?" will be discussed.

The closing address for the program on Friday will be delivered by Dr. R. F. Campbell, of Asheville. His subject will be the New Appalachian Synod. The concluding sermon for the entire school will be delivered Sunday morning, the 25th of July, when Dr. W. W. Moore will preach on "Our Lord's Ascension Charge to His Church."

DEATH OF DAVID J. CORBETT.

Pender County Loses One of Its Most Valuable Citizens.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Currie, N. C., July 19.—In the death of our friend, David Jasper Corbett, Pender county loses one of its most valuable citizens. He leaves a devoted wife and a host of friends to mourn his death. Having been of a warm social disposition, he made friends wherever he was known. Not fearing to freely express his opinion on all questions relative to the uplift of his community and county, he naturally was of great service to it.

Through his energy and wise judgment he lived well and won the reward that such a life is entitled to. Yet better than that he for half a century was a faithful member of Canetuck Baptist church and one of its devoted officers, trying to serve the true and only living God whom he loved and served in his Sunday school and church work, which he did until a few months ago when his declining health prevented him from continuing same.

For nearly 50 years he and his loving wife have been faithful pillars in their church resting upon the faith of Him who doeth all things well.

HAD PELLAGRA; IS NOW CURED

Hillsboro, Ala.—J. W. Turner, of this place, says: "I ought to have written you two weeks ago, but failed to do so. I got well and then forgot to write you. I can get about like a 10-year-old boy; you ought to see me run around and tend to my farm. I can go all day just like I used to. I am so thankful to know there is such a good remedy to cure people of pellagra."

There is no longer any doubt that pellagra can be cured. Don't delay until it is too late. It is your duty to consult the resourceful Baughn.

The symptoms—hands red like sunburn, skin peeling off, sore mouth, the lips, throat and tongue a flaming red, with much mucus and choking; indigestion and nausea, either diarrhoea or constipation.

There is hope; get Baughn's big Free book on Pellagra and learn about the remedy for Pellagra that has at last been found. Address American Compounding Co., box 2097, Jasper, Ala., remembering money is refunded in any case where the remedy fails to cure.—Advt.

LENOIR COUNTY MAN CLUBS WIFE TO DEATH

Is Believed to Have Been Crazed by Pellagra

After Striking First Blow Told Her He Was Going to Kill Her—Three Children Left Motherless. He is in Jail.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 19.—Cooper Hill, a Deep Run farmer, is in the Lenoir county jail here charged with brutally murdering his wife. Hill, 32 years of age and two years younger than Mrs. Hill, is a pellagra victim. It is believed the disease affected his brain. In a cell in the jail, he pitiably protests his great love for his wife, but studiously refuses to discuss the motive for the crime. It is thought he was jealous without cause. He gave the officers who went to arrest him no trouble, but his actions are those of an insane person.

Hill and the woman were shelling beans in the yard of their home in the isolated Deep Run section late Saturday when he left her for a few moments. Returning with an oak club, without warning he struck her a terrific blow over the head with it. While she lay prostrate he repeated the blow several times. One of their small children saw the deed and ran screaming for help. Neighbors carried Mrs. Hill into the house. The slayer loitered about, making no attempt to escape.

Regaining consciousness for a time, Mrs. Hill told the neighbors that after striking the first blow her husband, leaning over her, declared his intention of killing her and asked if there was any message she wished to leave her relatives.

Hill is said to have been unbalanced at times, and it is thought that while temporarily deranged he committed the attack. Since the tragedy he appears to have grown worse. He professed remorse for the deed to newspaper men.

The murderer is the son of a preacher. He had been married to the victim who died yesterday, about ten years. Three children are left motherless.

MOONLIGHT AND FARM LIFE SCHOOLS FEATURE

Schools and Their Improvement Discussed at Chapel Hill.

Chapel Hill, July 19.—Schools and their improvement have been the subject which has engaged the attention of the teachers for the past week. The High School Conference which was in session at the summer school last week, discussed thoroughly every question dealing with the work of our schools.

One outstanding feature of the conference was the great interest manifested in moonlight schools and in farm life schools. Thursday morning Dr. J. Y. Joyner spoke in chapel on the great work which the moonlight schools are doing and as a result over 150 teachers of the State offered their services free obligating to teach at least one month in some moonlight school.

Farm life schools also received attention at the meetings of the conference. On Friday representatives from every farm life school in the State were here and told the teachers how they had succeeded in building up their schools. Dr. Joyner also outlined the contemplated requirements for farm life schools. Briefly these were: There should be a farm of 25 acres, two teams, a barn and four cows; that there should be a dormitory with a minimum capacity of 25 boys and 25 girls; a school building to cost, at the lowest, $1,300; and a trained man for farm demonstrator and a trained woman for home economics work. Funds for the establishment and maintenance of the school may be secured from three sources: $2,500 from the State; the same amount from the county, and in addition an appropriation as a county high school. The meetings of the conference were well attended and of unusual value to the teachers of the State.

She has been for a number of years, a member of the Baptist church, was patient in her suffering, and was characterized by a generous disposition. The interment was in the cemetery at Warsaw, the floral offerings being many and lovely.

Kinston, N. C., July 19.—Mr. George Frank Hill will be ordained to the Episcopal ministry in St. Peter's church at Washington tomorrow morning at 11:30 o'clock. NEW RULE IS ADOPTED BY THE SUPREME COURT

Requisition Issued for Return of Turner Gilbert

Dr. Joyner Lectures at Summer School of the South—Bloomsbury Park Management Having Trouble—Man Injured.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N .C., July 19.—The North Carolina Supreme court has made an amendment to the rules of the court whereby it is required, beginning with the term that convenes the last Monday in August, that all the formalities of registration for examination as application for licenses to practice law must be perfected with the clerk of the Supreme Court not later than Friday before the court convenes on Monday. This change is in order that the great confusion and stir that always characterized the opening of the court in the past may be avoided.

It is understood that this rule is to be rigidly enforced and steps are being taken to thoroughly put those interested on notice that such a new rule is in force.

A requisition was issued today by the Governor of North Carolina on the governor of Texas for Plummer Gilbert, who is wanted in Wilmington to answer the charge of housebreaking and robbery. Gilbert is a foreigner. He is now under arrest in San Antonio, Texas. The requisition is on application of George Peschau, prosecuting attorney for New Hanover county. The fugitive broke into the store of C. W. Polvogt Company, it is alleged.

The number of automobile licenses issued already for the new fiscal year that began July 1 has climbed to 16,595, compared with 16,305 that were issued for the entire previous fiscal year.

Joyner at Knoxville.

Dr. J. Y. Joyner, State Superintendent of Public Instruction, has gone to Knoxville, Tenn., to deliver a series of lectures before the Summer School of the South, the next two days. He will return via Clay county to take a hand in a campaign being waged by County Superintendent Scroggs for a farm life school to be located probably at Hayesville.

Both Legs Broken.

Edward Falson, it is believed, will recover from severe injuries he sustained on the Bloomsbury suburban car line by being struck by a street car. Both legs were broken. Falson was walking toward the city and as the car approached he seemed, according to those who saw the accident, to stumble suddenly toward the track, the motorman on the car not being able to stop the car in time to save Falson from the injury. A passing automobile took the injured man immediately to Rex Hospital. He was severely bruised in addition to the breaking of both his legs. Internal injuries were also feared. However, his condition today indicates that there were no internal injuries and that he will recover.

Park Management Has Trouble.

For the past seven weeks of the present summer park season the management of the Bloomsbury Park has employed an Italian band to give concerts each afternoon and evening with special sacred concerts on Sundays. The musicians, it seems, are not members of the Labor Union and the Central Union, of Raleigh, served a formal protest against their employment and insistance that union musicians should be given the places. Confronted with a probable boycott of the union people if the band were retained, the management has dismissed the band and its director, Signor Biattiae, has brought suit against the park management for $290 claimed as back pay for wages to members of the band and notice is served that at the close of the season there will be demand for pay for the remainder of the season on the ground of breach of contract.

SAVES DAUGHTER

Advice of Mother no Doubt Prevents Daughter's Untimely End.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Bratcher, of this place, "and was down in bed for three months.

I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head, and with nervousness and womanly troubles.

Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.

At last, my mother advised me to take Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.

I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health."

If you suffer from any of the ailments peculiar to women, get a bottle of Cardui today. Delay is dangerous. We know it will help you, for it has helped so many thousands of other weak women in the past 50 years.

FIRE IN GOLDSBORO.

Fortunate That Only Half of Fire Department Was at Wrightsville.

Goldsboro, N. C., July 19.—While half the members of the fire department were enjoying their annual outing at Wrightsville Beach, fire yesterday afternoon at the wood yard of W. H. Griffin & Son caused a loss estimated at between $1,500 and $2,000, when a large barn, several sheds and stables, combined, were completely destroyed A fine horse valued at $200, confined in one of the stables, was burned to death during the conflagration which for a time threatened to be one of the most disastrous fires in the city's history, being dangerously near the plant of the Goldsboro Oil Mills, the Atlantic Coast Line depot and other large enterprises. The firemen who were present in the city labored hard and in about an hour after they arrived upon the scene had the flames under control. The city officials are commending Assistant Fire Chief Leslie Yelverton for his decision to allow only half the members of the department to go on their outing at once.

Fire Chief Farmer, of Raleigh, was a visitor in the city yesterday and was among the first to arrive upon the scene of the fire and was soon issuing orders to the local firemen. He received a strong rebuke from Chief Yelverton and others before they learned who he was.

Keep cool.

What is to keep an alienist from being a paranoiac?

How can ever The Hague tribunal be made a court of impartiality?

It is strange how few people know how to make a huckleberry shortcake.

Looks somewhat curious that there should even be harm in harmonious.

Now they say that the River Bug is pronounced as if it were Boogh—almost booze.

Among other disturbances there is that made by those who think the stock law is awful.

What is responsible for all the world's crises and other crimes? Many criminals are "higher up."

We are "with Wilson," and if we had our way we'd be with him at Cornish and stay right there till the summer is over.

If Germany won't promise us not to torpedo British ships carrying American passengers, we can spite her by patronizing American ships when we are going abroad.

How often we have predicted astonishing things! Why, something both surprising and astonishing is going to happen before long. How natural it is that such is the case.

If out of a hundred ways there is only one by which a man can put his foot in it, there are Jonahs who will stumble right into that one way and miss the ninety and nine.

War's war, and, of course, it calls for "formidable energy." The nation which expects to get ready after war breaks out will hardly be prepared to fight till the war's all over.

You are bound to have trouble. If you don't make some for yourself, somebody else will make it for you. Look in the palm of your hand and see it for yourself, unless you were born lucky.

A man who got him a June bride says he has almost forgotten his maiden name, owing to the fact that the bride's parents immediately took over the couple so they could be managed according to the family rule.

Says Harry Thaw: "I have never been enamored of Broadway, anyhow." Well, nobody cares two cents about Broadway. Those who enter into the life on Broadway care nothing for that thoroughfare any more than if it had any other name.

A war zone is no place for people who wish to be careful with themselves. Even a man with too much mother-in-law would suggest to her that it would not be safe for her to sail on an enemy ship, flying an enemy flag, carrying enemy war material and taking chances on getting away from submarines known to be doing business in a war zone. Talk about blowing in the muzzle of a loaded gun!

Georgia does not draw the color line between her convicts. White and colored are placed in the same quarters to sleep, their bunks close together, and doubtless beginners in crime and in many instances those who have once violated the law without criminal intent are associated with the most hardened and desperate criminals. Georgia is not the only state which lacks system and efficiency in its prison management. We have seen in our own state county homes or "poor houses" in which people of both races constituted practically one family. Wonder if there is anything like that in North Carolina now.

COTTON HYSTERIA AGAIN.

For a little bit, some sections of the South would again indulge in hysteria about the cotton marketing prospects this fall. However, people who had the nerve to devote large acreage in cotton, or make cotton their principal crop again, after such an experience as they had last year and in view of all the newspaper warnings of unfavorable prospects, surely ought to have nerve enough to wait till they get to the bridge before they make up their minds that it it going to collapse as soon as they try to cross it. Planting cotton in the face of conditions in Europe where two-thirds of our crop finds a market, was a gamble, and certainly cotton fetish farmers ought to show that they are good gamblers by being good losers—if it comes to that.

Nobody can forecast at this time what the cotton situation will be this fall, but it could not be as bad as it was last season, when hysteria filled the land, later for it to be discovered that there was no justification for anybody's becoming panic-stricken. There is less need of it now than there was last year, and there is no reason yet why anybody should get scared at the prospects.

Wait and see. Probably no ghost will appear because somebody is saying that they believe it is going to show up. Bankers are the last people in the world who should ever lead the hysteria movement, but it is published that Banker W. H. Kettig, the Birmingham member of the Reserve Bank branch for the Atlanta district, has recently given out a pessimistic interview in which he predicts great woe for the South unless the government can bring about a quick change in the attitude of Great Britain, whose warships are seizing all the cotton exported to European countries.

Such views from the class of men to which the Birmingham banker belongs have an unreasonably depressing effect in the South itself, but even a worse impression is made in the North where it shakes confidence in the South. The Birmingham News gives us an instance of it. It has caused a halt in the plans of a Northerner who had practically closed a $60,000 farm deal in Alabama. Fearing that Alabama will be a poor place to invest when it has a cotton scare, the prospector has decided to wait awhile.

It is one by one that investors get scared and lock up their money and it is exactly that by the wholesale which brings about stagnation and ruin. Hard times and panics are the result of fear, and President Wilson was correct when he declared that the depression last year was largely psychological.

Suppose conditions should be as bad as they were last year (but they will not be), we certainly ought to take our medicine, because we fixed up the dose for ourselves.

THE DYE AND FERTILIZER FACTORS.

In figuring on the prospects for the cotton situation during the period for marketing the crop now being produced, two important factors to be taken into account are the tremendous decrease in the amount of commercial fertilizers used and the possibility of a solution of the dye shortage problem.

Since the supply of dyestuffs heretofore furnished American cotton goods manufacturers by Germany has been cut off, various solutions for the problem have been suggested. American scientists and other men of brains have been studying the problem with a view to finding some means of relief for the scarcity of dyestuffs, which has hampered and crippled a great many manufacturers of cotton goods and thus in a measure has curtailed the consumption of cotton in this country, with the prospect of still further curtailment by the shutting down of many more mills unless some means of obtaining the necessary dyes is found.

It seems to have been practically established as a fact that we have in America the materials for making the dyes needed. What we lack is the science for converting these materials into the much needed commodity. Next to the Germans, the Swiss are recognized as the greatest adepts in the science of manufacturing dyes. It has been suggested, therefore, that the American coal tar crude products, from which dyes are made, be sent to Switzerland, there manufactured into dyes and returned to this country. The United States bureau of foreign and domestic commerce has been hard at work on the dye problem, and Dr. Thomas H. Norton, of that bureau, now comes forth with what he considers a far better scheme, to wit, the transfer of a sufficient corps of Swiss expert color chemists to the United States to aid in the development of the new American coal tar industry.

A combination of Swiss technical skill, American capital and the vast American supply of coal tar would be of "untold value" in the development of the American industry, according to a statement by Dr. Norton, who asserts that the plan, which already has been successfully tried by Russia, would be the logical development of the present scheme under which United States coal tar crudes are to be exported to Switzerland, manufactured into dyes, and returned to this country. Two Swiss dye chemists, through the bureau, have already begun negotiations with American firms to undertake the establishment of plants in this country.

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, the tonnage of commercial fertilizers sold up to June 25 this year was 2,636,000 against 4,431,000 last year. This tremendous and surprising reduction in the amount of fertilizers used in the South, by far the larger proportion of which is used under cotton, cannot but result in a big reduction in the yield of cotton per acre. The reduction in the yield, of course, may not be in the same proportion as the reduction in the use of fertilizers, but the effect is bound to be very material. Therefore it is safe to assume that, unless weather conditions or some other factor in the production of the crop shall be so favorable as to counteract in large measure the natural reduction in yield that would result from the use of less fertilizers, the production per acre will be materially less than the average.

If it turns out that the yield per acre is materially reduced on this account, that in itself will be a factor in favor of better sales for cotton, in addition to the decreased acreage, while any solution of the problem of dye scarcity would result in a large increase in the domestic consumption of cotton, or, at least remove the probability of many mills being forced to close down for lack of dyes, and this would be a big factor in increasing the demand for cotton where the demand could be supplied.

OPTIMISM TO BOAST ABOUT.

Optimism is the hope and cheerfulness inspired by courage and confident expectation. If we can trust in the resources of our State, in the prospects of our city and in the ability of ourselves to do things, we have every reason to be optimistic. In fact, it is confidence in the satisfactory outcome of our endeavors and ventures that keeps us all doing things. It is lack of confidence in ourselves and everything that makes us quit the job and fall down on ourselves.

We hope none of the pessimists who had the floor in Wilmington last year will come to the front this season. We ought to be in a position to boast of our optimism and have strangers to come along and wonder at it and write newspaper articles about it.

"There is more optimism to the square inch in Jacksonville than is found anywhere else in the South," says Mr. Charles R. Jordan, Southern representative of John A. Gauger & Company, of Chicago, manufacturers of sash, doors, blinds and mouldings. Mr. Jordan travels North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia and Florida. Any community ought to be proud to have that said about it during such times as these.

The sash, door, blind and moulding manufacturers of Chicago have enough confidence in the South to always keep its representatives on the road to get business. They will always get orders, too, till the South manufactures its own doors, sash, blinds and mouldings. It has all the material required for the industry, but the South would rather send to Chicago than bother about manufacturing its raw material.

We must possess the optimism and confidence that will enable us to use our own material and resources in supplying the South's needs. We must be too optimistic to think of sending away our raw materials to be manufactured and returned to us.

STAND BY THE PRESIDENT

President Wilson got back to Washington Monday morning from his summer home at Cornish, New Hampshire. The American controversy with Germany over her submarine warfare brought the President back to the scene of government and he will formulate another note to Germany expressing again this country's inability to accept the terms of the German answer to America's demands. President Wilson's sole aim is to defend American rights without the exercise of measures more drastic than diplomatic negotiations, if possible, and whatever steps he may take no doubt will have the endorsement of all patriotic Americans. There has been talk to the effect that the course which the President is likely to pursue might endanger his chances for re-election to the presidency next year, but even so partisan a Republican paper as the New York Tribune says:

"At the present moment a deliberate and farreaching effort is being made to coerce the President of the United States in the discharge of his official duties by the use of political intrigue.

"Thanks to Mr. Bryan the Democratic party has been divided, and the prospect of increasing division is used to emphasize the peril for Mr. Wilson in the future if he continues to defend American rights and interest.

"To give point to this method German propagandist journals are already printing tabulations of the loss of Democratic votes incident to Mr. Wilson's performance of his duty. This is an impudent and intolerable assertion of the doctrine that the President of the United States must think of the votes of those frankly devoted to alien interests when national honor and national interest are at stake.

"In this situation there is just one thing for Republicans to do. Their support of a President defending American lives and rights must be complete and unfaltering. American Republicans mus replace German Democrats in the national alignment. The Presicans must replace German Democrats water's edge all questions of partisan politics end.

"It would be better for the Republican party to indorse Woodrow Wilson in 1916 than to permit the principle to be established that to defend American interests is to commit political suicide.

"Let no American, let no Republican, be deceived by the farreaching and industrious manipulations now in progress. If many Republicans believe that the President is censurable for the moderation of his policy, they should not play into German hands now by withholding support when Mr. Wilson is being assailed for what he has done.

"In the moment of national peril German agents and intrigues divided the Liberal party in Great Britain and threw the whole administration into confusion. The same thing has been attempted here. In England the conservatives saved the day by sacrificing political interest to national welfare. Republicans in this country can do no less.

"To support President Wilson in his defense of American lives and liberties is not merely a patriotic duty, it is peculiarly the duty of the Republican party in view of its history and its pretensions."

We do not know of any intrigue to control the President in his course concerning the controversy with Germany, but no doubt certain influences have sought to have a strong bearing on the subject. President Wilson certainly will not weaken himself by asserting and reasserting the determination of the United States to protect the lives and property of her people. It is not a party question, but an American principle to which American patriots of all parties are bound.

We don't know what the Tribune wants the President to do, but it is pretty safe to say that in what he does he will have the Democratic party almost as a unit behind him. We are not so sure that The Tribune can promise as much for the Republican party, however, patriotic the utterances of that great Republican paper may be.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Three years ago Mr. L. P. Wilkins sowed an acre of land in clover and timothy and herd grass. He recently cut four tons from this acre and has averaged that much at every cutting since the land was first sowed down. As he has been getting two cuttings annually this makes eight tons for one season or twenty-four tons for the three seasons from one sowing. Wilkins-Ricks Company feed upon an average of 50 head of horses from twenty acres of clover, timothy and herd grass. We give these figures to show what can be done in this county in the way of raising clover and grasses.—Sanford Express.

For the first time in many years the farmers of Sampson will soon be using homegrown and home-ground flour. Up to date no accurate estimate of the number of bushels of wheat grown in the county has been made, but the most conservative guesses are over thirty thousand bushels. Be that as it may, whatever the size of the crop it is just that much of a step in the right direction, and puts us just that much nearer the day in which the Sampson county farmer will produce at home practically all the food he consumes, and will grow cotton strictly as a surplus crop. In this connection we are glad to be able to announce that the Clinton Milling Company has practically completed their flour and feed mill. All the machinery is here and installed with the exception of the electric motor which will furnish the power.—Sampson Democrat.

Samuel G. Blythe, foremost political writer in this country, is giving the American people the benefit of what he learned in Japan and China last spring. At that time, it will be recalled, Japan was making unusual demands on China, and the two countries, we believed at that time, were close to war. Mr. Blythe's article is entitled "China Japanned," and he shows how the Tokio government, while the rest of the world was otherwise engaged, fastened its talons in the national flesh of China. They never will be withdrawn. Japan's idea is not only to secure the trade of China, to close the doors of that country against other nations, but to take China for her very own. In the end Japan will form a huge army with Chinese recruits and money and offer defiance to the white races. This raid on China's sovereignty was well-timed. No nation except the United States could have prevented it, and the Washington authorities did not care to increase their troubles. The alliance between England and Japan, it is beginning to appear, was the most unfortunate and unnatural alignment the world has ever known. Under the cloak of friendship, the Japanese are drawing the knife across John Bull's throat. Germany has been driven from China, and England and France will follow. If there is any fight left in the European nations, there will be some interesting war news from the Orient in the next few years.—Raleigh Times.

The fact that there is likely to be difficulty again in financing the cotton crop this year is impressing more forcibly than ever the desirability of diversifying crops in the South. This is being especially impressed upon the banking interests, which have in the past been largely responsible for giving so much attention to the cotton crop to the neglect of other uses for the land. There is such a demand for this material this world over and such a large proportion of the supply is grown in our Southern states, that its almost exclusive cultivation over large areas has grown out of the fact that it commands ready cash for export and is the most assured basis for credit for the planter or farmer class. For many years after the restoration of the South to the Union of States there was much need of credit in reviving industries and developing material prosperity, and on account of the security, the bankers encouraged the growing of cotton to the utmost limit. Besides, it has been on the whole the most profitable crop of the South. The interruption of the export trade by the war just as last year's crop was coming into the market had a disastrous effect upon the cotton trade for a time and the planters were threatened with heavy losses from liability to market their cotton at a remnuerative price. There was much talk then of becoming less dependent upon the staple product, reducing the area of planting one-half and adopting a plan of diversified crops. The relief that finally came in the opening of foreign markets revived hopes and plans for greater variety in Southern planting languished again. When this year's planting season came there was no definite understanding for reducing acreage, and instead of being curtailed anything like one-half it is estimated to be not more than 10 per cent less than last year, when there was an unexampled crop. At the same time a new obstacle to marketing has arisen from an almost complete embargo upon trade with Germany and Austria and even with the neutral countries adjacent to them. Cotton is now treated by Great Britain practically as a contraband article, though not formally declared to be so. Relief may come again, and there is no doubt that when this dreadful war disturbance is once over cotton will regain its importance as a product of the South and an article of export. It is not desirable that its production should be so restricted as to increase its price materially, but it is desirable that its cultivation should be more scientific in method and results, and that a smaller proportion of the land in the Southern states should be devoted to its production. Probably a much larger quantity might be raised on a smaller area by proper methods of cultivation, but the great need of Southern agriculture is raising a greater variety of crops. That may be done, perhaps, without materially restricting the cotton industry. There is land enough which is not cultivated or is very imperfectly cultivated and room enough for improved diversification of crops, to the benefit of the Southern people, without sacrificing any of the real advantage of their section as a cotton growing region.—New York Journal of Commerce.

RIVER AND HARBOR WORK FOR PAST YEAR

Maj. H. W. Stickle Makes Report for Fiscal Year

More Than Half Million Dollars Spent on Cape Fear—Project at King's Bluff Completed—Commercial Statistics.

Maj. H. W. Stickle, United States district engineer, completed his annual report yesterday for the fiscal year, ending June 30, 1915, and a copy has been forwarded to the Chief of the Board of Engineers at Washington. By far the most important of the projects under the supervision of the local office was that of dredging the lower Cape Fear to maintain a depth of 26 feet to the ocean and the work on the locks and dams at King's Bluff and Brown's Landing for the purpose of securing a depth of eight feet to Fayetteville. More than a half million dollars was spent in this work. The locks and dam at King's Bluff have been completed during the year and constitute an important achievement.

The commercial statistics embodied in Major Stickle's report are for the calendar year ending December 31st, and afford a fine index to the usefulness of the different projects under the direction of the local office of engineers.

The work on the lower Cape Fear at and below Wilmington during the past year consisted of dredging for the maintenance of channel of 26 feet depth to the ocean. The total amount expended was $177,431.95. There were removed from the ocean bar 553,290 cubic yards of material and 1,925,688 cubic yards from the river channel. The work was done by the dredges Atlantic, Cape Fear, Winyeh Bay, Henry Bacon, Hercules and the Ajax. There were 254 stumps and 47 logs removed from the channel.

The commercial statistics for the lower Cape Fear have already been published, but it will be of interest to give them again, as showing the tremendous importance of this part of the improvements under the supervision of Major Stickle and his assistants in the local office. The foreign exports were 35,790 tons, valued at $6,217,042, and the coastwise exports were 100,188 tons, valued at $6,363,885.02. The foreign imports were 178,345 tons, valued at $3,689,812.20, and the coastwise imports were 246,257 tons, valued at $8,525,564.43. The internal tonnage upstream was 15,957, valued at $381,063.40, and the tonnage downstream was 23,817, valued at $722,587.50. The outbound tonnage from Wilmington harbor was 40,006, valued at $1,582,000.10, and the inbound tonnage was 151,944, valued at $1,300,208.62, making the total tonnage for the lower Cape Fear 792,304, which was valued at $28,682,163.25.

During the year the lock and dam at King's Bluff has been completed, the total expenditures at this point being $52,222.19. Considerable work has been done on the construction of the locks and dam at Brown's Landing, near Elizabethtown, the total expenditures at this point being $165,881.41. During the year $12,900 was spent in dredging shoals in the upper Cape Fear. The total expenditures for all purposes on the upper Cape Fear were $289,926.01.

During the last calendar year there were 90,021 tons brought down the river which was valued at $753,124, and 77,889 tons carried up the river, this being valued at $2,071,136.10, making a total tonnage of 167,720, valued at $2,824,254.

Three thousand dollars was spent during the year in snagging on the Northeast river. The total tonnage for this river was 128,518, valued at $2,116,210.10.

There was no money spent on the Black river. The tonnage downstream was 17,851, valued at $194,381.50, and there were 2,327 tons carried upstream, which was valued at $126,417, making a total of 20,178 tons, valued at $320,798.50.

The total expenditures for maintenance on the upper Cape Fear were, $5,207.92.

There was spent on the Shallotte river for maintenance during the fiscal year $1,464.38. The total imports were 1,508 tons, valued at $77,891.50 and the exports were 1,552 tons, valued at $31,531. The tonnage upstream was 601, valued at $2,757.75, and downstream the tonnage was 240, valued at $800.

One of the important projects under the direction of the district office is that of dredging the Pamlico and Tar rivers. The work of the past year consisted of dredging channel for the purpose of securing a depth of ten feet, 300 feet wide, from Pamlico Sound to Washington, N. C. Much of this work was snagging, which was done by the hoister Contentnia, the cost being $3,000. The dredge Hercules has done considerable dredging this year, the total expenditures for this work being $22,462.50. Other expenditures amounted to $800.

The total tonnage upstream on the Pamlico was 152,851, valued at $1,632,726.50, and 135,976 downstream, valued at $2,002,884.87, the total tonnage being 288,827, valued at $3,635,611.37.

On the Trent river the work the past fiscal year consisted of dredging to provide a channel five feet deep to Trenton and snagging. The total amount expended was about $4,000; the inbound tonnage upstream was 7,249, valued at $320,463.50, and downstream 37,118, valued at $259,851. The exports amounted to 59,597 tons, valued at $1,064,524.50, and the imports amounted to 39,445 tons, valued at $1,086,603. The total tonnage was 137,409, valued at $2,751,- [illegible] Swift Creek snagging was done [illegible] the Contentnia at a cost of $292.32. [illegible] total tonnage was 15,652, valued $153,585.

WILL SINK TWO DEEP WELLS

Council Rescinds Action as to Fireman Davis—To Complete Culvert at Winoca Terrace.

The regular weekly meeting of City Council was held last night and a number of matters received attention. It was decided to complete the culvert at Winoca Terrace which was started last year and bids will be advertised for at once. The estimated cost will be about $2,500. Council rescinded its action of two weeks ago in electing Mr. N. H. Davis as fireman at the Central station, it appearing from a report of the Civil Service Commission that he was not eligible on account of lack of height. Upon the urgent request of citizens it was decided to sink two deep wells, one at Third and Wooster and the other at Sixth and Orange.

All members of Council were present when Mayor Moore called the body to order at 8:15 o'clock. On account of having another important engagement Mayor Moore requested Councilman Merritt, who is Mayor pro tem, to preside at the meeting.

Mr. J. M. Stephenson appeared before council to request that the livestock owned by the city be insured. He pointed out that there are 28 head of stock and that a conservative estimate of their value is $200 each or a total of more than $5,000. He explained thoroughly his proposition which he thought would be of great advantage to the city. The matter was referred to the special committee on insurance composed of Councilmen McCaig, Hall and Jones.

Mr. M. F. Penny explained the urgent necessity of having a deep well at Third and Wooster. He said that the surface wells have been condemned by the health department and that physicians had advised against drinking this kind of water. The matter was before Council two weeks ago but no action taken at that time because it was hoped that some way might be found by which the wells could be dispensed with at this time. Upon motion of Councilmen McCaig it was voted last night to sink this well and also one at Sixth and Orange.

Upon motion of Councilman McCaig $141 was appropriated for repairs to the police call system.

Councilman Bunting referred to the matter of employing Fireman N. H. Davis. He stated that on May 7, 1912, Mr. Davis passed a very creditable examination before the Civil Service Commission with the exception of the fact that he lacked an inch of being high enough. On May 27, 1914, Council eliminated one inch from the required height of 5 feet and 7 inches Councilman Bunting read a communication from Dr. J. H. Bornemann, chairman of the commission, stating that yesterday he measured Mr. Davis and found he was only 5 feet and 5 inches in height.

Councilman McCaig thought that in view of the deficiency in height there was nothing to do except rescind the action taken two weeks ago inemploying Mr. Davis. The latter stated that yesterday he had been measured in his bare feet while before he had been erawith his shoes on. It seems that the statute does not state how the measurements are to be made. He referred to his service of four years and thought that it ought to be taken into consideration. After some discussion Councilman Bunting moved that Council rescind its action in employing Mr. Davis.

Fire Chief Schibben was granted permission to move a fire alarm box from Fifth and Castle to Sixteenth and Castle. He also asked that he be allowed to install a box at Delgado but it was decided to wait a while before doing this. Mr. G. T. Williamson, superintendent of the fire alarm and police call systems, stated that there would be little more expense while the boxes were being installed at Carolina Place and Carolina Heights to make provision for putting in police calls and Council voted to do this.

Couciiman Bradshaw stated that he had made an investigation of the sidewalks on Fourth street between Wooster and Dawson and had found the pipe on which he thought a man could get hurt. Mr. Hocutt through his attorney, Woodus Kellum, asked Council at the last meeting to remunerate him for injuries which he said he sustained on this street. Councilman Bradshaw said he had also investigated the place on Chestnut street between Front and Water where Mr. Crandall said he was hurt last fall and had found that this had been repaired. He also referred to a complaint that a citizen had made that a car of road material located at the foot of Castle street had shut off the breeze from his home and had supplied a liberal amount of dust.

Mr. Ira G. Upchurch called the attention of Council to a tree which he said is in the street at Wrightsville avenue and Gibson street, and is dangerous to traffic.

Councilman Bunting called attention to the condition of the sidewalks on Market street near Second which has sunk down several inches. A resolution was adopted instructing the chief of police to call the attention of property owners to this condition.

The plans and specification of the Postal Telegraph Company for placing a line along Grace street were submitted and, having been approved by City engineer Struthers, were accepted.

Councilmen Merritt called attention to the fact that the culvert which had been started some time ago through Winoca Terrace and that vicinity had never been completed. He said that both ends had been completed but that there is about 600 feet that is necessary to connect up the two parts. He thought that the cost would be about $2,500. City Engineer Struthers was authorized to advertise for bids.

The case against Phoebe Walker for receiving stolen goods was nol prossed by the State. Probable cause was found in the case against Virgil Nixon for storebreaking and he was sent up to the Superior Court and is now in jail in default of $200 bond.

HOW TO HEAL SKIN-DISEASES

A Baltimore doctor suggests this simple, but reliable and inexpensive, home treatment for people suffering with eczema, ringworm, rashes and similar itching, burning skin troubles.

At any reliable druggist's get a jar of resinol ointment and a cake of resinol soap. These will not cost a bit more than seventy-five cents. With the resinol soap and warm water bathe the affected parts thoroughly, until they are free from crusts and the skin is softened. Dry very gently, spread on a thin layer of the resinol ointment, and cover with a light bandage—if necessary to protect the clothing. This should be done twice a day. Usually the distressing itching and burning stop with the first treatment, and the skin soon becomes clear and healthy again.

A HINT FOR SHAVERS

If you want a refreshing shave, with a thick, creamy lather, try a resinol shaving stick. It contains the soothing, healing resinol medication which makes it especially welcome to men with tender faces.

LOST MORE THAN $1,000

In Interest on $200 in Gold Kept at Home Forty Years.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 12.—A Beaufort county man who recently paid $200 in gold for a small piece of real estate, lost $1,044.23 because he kept the money at home for 40 years instead of in a bank, according to a bank cashier's figures. "Drawing interest at 4 per cent. and compounded quarterly, at the end of 40 years he would have had to his credit in bank $1,244.23, or just $1,044.23 more than he had when he drew the two hundred dollars in gold from its hiding place," the banker said. "It has not counted anything of benefit in the community life, and has all that time been subject to loss by fire and burglary. He had his seed, so to speak, but where was the harvest? Idle money is useless."

Homely, Yet Admired and Envied; Her Secret

The convention crowd made a path for her, cast admiring side glances, then with longing eyes followed her to the elevator. It was at the Pontchartrain in Detroit. The incident was recalled when I chanced to sit across table from the woman. What was it about her that caused all that commotion? Her complexion. Really, I've never beheld its equal. Venturing to pick up aquaintanceship, I learned the secret.

"I've tried to make the most of my one charm," she said. "I know men abhor make-ups and artificiality. I bar cosmetics; there are two things I use to promote natural loveliness and youthful appearance. When my complexion begins to age, I get an ounce of mercolized wax at the drugstore, apply at night like cold cream, wash it off in the morning. This gradually flakes off the outer skin; then I have a brand new complexion, magnetically beautiful, as you see.

"Wrinkles never bother me. At their inception I bathe my face in a solution made by dissolving an ounce of powdered saxolite in a half pint of witch hazel. It works like magic."—Mona Morrow in Tattler.

MISS BEULAH WALKER WINNER

In Popularity Contest of Bijou Theatre. Miss Banks Was Close Second. Much Interest.

Miss Beulah Walker, one of Wilmington's most popular young ladies, was the winner in the popularity contest, conducted by the Bijou theatre for the past six weeks, and will tour the United States and Canada as the guest of this theatre. Miss Annie Banks, by securing the second largest number of votes in the contest, wins several handsome prizes and, because of the closeness of the race between her and Miss Walker, has been given a two weeks' trip to Atlantic City with all expenses paid.

The contest closed yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock and the judges, Messrs. W. E. Perdew, P. Q. Moore and J. A. Livingstone, after counting the votes cast, a task which consumed the better part of four hours, announced a little before 10 o'clock the winners. Mayor Moore made the announcement from the stage at the Bijou theatre and it was with tense interest that the large audience listened to learn who had won first place.

Miss Walker will leave Wilmington on August 2nd for Charlotte where she will join 21 other young ladies, who are winners in similar contests conducted in as many towns in North and South Carolina. The party will leave Charlotte on the morning of August 3rd aboard a private Pullman car for a tour of the United States and Canada, embracing all told 8,616 miles, visiting the two California Expositions for extended stays, as well as spending six days at Universal City, near Los Angeles, the city where Universal movies are made. While the guests of the Universal company, they will all take a part in a motion picture production, which will be shown throughout the civilized world—wherever moving pictures are known. Other moving pictures will be made of the party en route, starting at Charlotte, until their return.

After leaving Universal City they will go for an extended tour of the Canadian Rockies, returning by way of Chicago. Stop-overs will be made at all principal points, both coming and going, and fetes will be arranged in honor of the ladies at almost every stop.

The honor which Miss Walker attains by the winning of the contest is greatly magnified when it is known that she has only been a resident of Wilmington for about one year, during which time she has made friends by the thousands, who will congratulate her today upon winning the trip. Some 2,000 people thronged the Bijou and the street in front last night until the final returns were announced, denoting in a small degree the great city-wide interest that has been aroused in the contest.

The second prize, a handsome diamond ring, was won by Miss Annie Banks, who led the race right up to the finish for first place. And as the final result shows Miss Walker leading by just 332,800 votes, it can be imagined just how close the running of Miss Banks and Miss Walker has been. Miss Walker's total vote was 4,332,900 and Miss Banks' 4,000,100.

Messrs. Howard & Wells announced last night that, owing to the close finish of the leading contestants, they were going to give the winner of the second prize, which is a handsome diamond ring donated by Mr. A. O. Schuster, a two weeks' trip to Atlantic City, with all expenses paid. They felt that this would be due the winner of second prize in part compensation for the hard, earnest work which the young lady had devoted to the contest. Miss Banks will therefore spend her vacation at Atlantic City as the guest of the Bijou Theatre.

Messrs. Howard & Wells wish to return thanks to the public-spirited merchants who aided in the contest by offering prizes, among whom were Messrs. A. O. Schuster, J. T. Burke, the C. W. Polvogt Co., Goodman's, and Northam's Book & Stationery Store.

LOCAL SHOWERS WILL LIKELY PREVAIL TODAY.

No Announcement That Long Hot Spell Will Come to End.

There was a little over a half inch of rain fell yesterday during the two thunder showers, but still the thermometer reached 92 degrees and many were the remarks that such oppressive weather couldn't last much longer, but no such remark from Mr. Felger. He hands out the announcement that there will be more showers today, but has nothing to say about the temperature, despite the fact that it has held above the seasonal average now for several days.

It is pleasant to note that Wilmington almost invariably holds the lowest temperatures in this section and that Asheville is her only rival in this State. Several of the Southern cities registered 100 degrees yesterday, including New Orleans. Raleigh was able to get down a few notches yesterday and fell in the class with Wilmington, registering just 92 degrees.

The Lumina open air theatre will have the following attractions to offer for tonight, "The Professor's Painless Curt," a single reel Vitagraph comedy featuring Sidney Drew and Donald McBride; and, "Lonely Lovers," a two-part Selig drama.

The exhibition of fireworks at Lumina last night, the first of the season, was witnessed by a large crowd and proved to be a splendid success. The exhibition was given from a platform which had been erected out in old ocean and this made it possible to see the display of pyrotechnics from the cozy seats which are arranged on the ocean side of the pavilion. The weather conditions were ideal, a cool refreshing breeze coming as a welcome relief from the many days of oppressive weather. The display was a very creditable one.

Yesterday's Fayetteville Observer: "Miss Jessie Smith left last Friday for a two weeks' stay at Wrightsville Beach. She will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Sandrock.—Mr. R. H. McDuffie left Sunday morning on a business trip to Wilmington and Lake Waccamaw, and before returning to Fayetteville will visit his family in Asheville."

The Texas Quartette, who are filling an engagement at Lumina this week, are repeating the success of their former visit earlier in the season. Their singing last night greatly pleased the large crowd gathered at Lumina to participate in the festivities of the first night of Lumina's big special week. The quartette also rendered several selections yesterday at the morning dance. The morning dances, which are given each morning from 11:30 to 1 o'clock, are very popular with the guests of the hotels and cottages on the beach and are quite largely attended. The concert feature is an added attraction which seems to be much appreciated and will no doubt increase the attendance at these dances. The Texas Quartette will sing at both the morning and evening dances during the remainder of the week.

Capt. J. W. Willis and Harry Gillikin, while out with the sharpie Edward, about four miles to sea, opposite the Seashore Hotel, yesterday morning, caught a 10-foot sandbar or mullet shark, weighing about 300 pounds. The shark was seen swimming near the boat, and a baited hook was thrown to him. The monster seized the bait, and after about an hour's hard work, the men landed him. A display of their game was made yesterday afternoon in front of the Seashore Hotel, where hundreds of people looked at the big fish.

COTTON PRICES FELL OFF

Nervousness Over the Political Situation—Prices Decline Dollar on the Bale.

New York, July 18.—The cotton market was unsettled today with prices easing off about $1 a bale owing to increased nervousness over the political situation and more favorable crop reports. The close was barely steady and from 15 to 21 points net lower.

Liverpool was relatively steady and the local market opened steady at an advance of 5 to 8 points. A private report published before the opening placed the condition of the crop at 77.5 per cent compared with 79.4 per cent about two weeks previously, but this showed a smaller deterioration than indicated by figures published last week. These figures combined with the Western belt forecast for showers in East Texas, and the easier ruling of the stock market soon checked the advance and prices later broke quite sharply under foreign, Wall Street, local and Southern selling. After showing a net loss of from 20 to 21 points on active months, there were rallies of 7 or 8 points from the lowest on covering or some renewed buying for a reaction, but these gains were not fully maintained, and there was renewed selling late in the day on reports of showers at several points in Arkansas and also in Oklahoma and Texas.

Cotton futures closed barely steady:

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Under Heavy Selling Pressure Prices Declined Sharply.

New Orleans, July 19.—After an advance of 3 to 4 points around the opening today, the cotton market felt heavy selling pressure and prices went into a sharp decline which destroyed much of the gain toward the end of last week. At the lowest of the day, active months were 20 to 24 points under last week's final quotations. The close was at a net loss of 19 to 21 points.

After the opening rally the market was completely in the hands of the bear side. Short sellers were encouraged by favorable weather and crop accounts and by reports of considerable open cotton in Texas with new bales reported at scattered points. New Orleans received two bales of new Texcotton.

Cotton futures closing: July 8.62; ober 9.01; December 9.23; January 4; March 9.57.

Spot cotton quiet, 12 points off; midng 8.63; sales on the spot 285; to ive 600.

RECESSIONS IN WAR SHARES

Orduna Incident and Labor Unrest in One of Larger Munitions Factories Principally the Cause.

New York, July 19.—Material recessions in war shares constituted the most significant and wholesome feature of today's active market. Several important factors entered into this movement, including labor unrest at some of the larger munitions factories and the Orduna incident.

In the case of Crucible Steel, which made a maximum decline of 6 3-4 points with 3 3-4 for the preferred, the setback was plainly traceable to the statement issued by one of its officials in which pointed reference was made to the dubious dividend prospects on the common stock. Other shares in this group lost two to over five points, later making slight recovery.

United States Steel reacted two points, but in the main gave a better account of itself than any other important industrial. Trading in steel comprised almost 20 per cent of the day's dealings.

Inquiry for the representative railways, while light, denoted a genuine demand, the improvement embracing every part of that division with marked strength to Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific and some of the Eastern lines, including the Anthracites.

A demand of sterling of 4.76 3-16 was the lowest quotation for this remittance for several weeks. Future sales of bonds were on a diminished scale at slight recessions. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,610,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

MRS. BOOTH-CLIBBORN TALKS ON SUBJECT OF MOTHERHOOD

"It is the Finest of Fine Arts—But a Lost Art", She Says.

San Francisco, July 19.—Mrs. Catherine Booth-Clibborn, daughter of the Salvation Army founder, the late General William Booth, who is an evangelistic worker in London, spoke before the International Purity Congress here today on motherhood, which, she declared "is the finest of arts—but a lost art." She said:

"Society has developed, especially within the last thirty years, a vast army of women who will not be women; married women who avoid children; incapable mothers who shirk the obligations and responsibilities of motherhood. We have women who are admirable flirts, couquets and talkers, splendidly efficient in all domain—business, science and art. All professions are now open to her. She can act, dance, paint, sing, typewrite, keep books, defend a case at the bar, or be policewoman. She can back horses, gamble and smoke; and, now a capable a soldier as any man unMiss Colonel Charlesworth, who is ling troops of women for Lord hener. In fact, she can do anything and everything except fulfill the highest of all destinies, the bringing forth of beautiful children and the making of them into men and women who will bless humanity.

"Woman's neglect and denial of her highest vocation is bearing bitter fruit. We see it in the white slave traffic more than anywhere else. We see the fruits in the hospitals. We see it in the reformatories. Some of the finest material for the making of useful lives is to be found there, run to seed—all through the lack of mothers.

"Woman is not altogether to blame for her failure to fulfill her destiny. The world has made and worships this false woman.

"Motherhood was the first thing to go in Greece and Rome. The Emperor Augustus saw his empire expire through the white slave traffic; France and Belgium are going in the same way. The same canker is also eating at the core of the national life of America. Since coming to the States I have been struck by the frightful tragedies in young lives—all for the want of a mother who has won the confidence and friendship of her children."

MAN SUPPOSED TO HAVE BEEN MURDERED RETURNS TO FAMILY

For His "Murder" Another Man is Serving Prison Term.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 19.—Frank Klug, for whose "murder" Nick Georgian is serving a 25 year sentence, and whose "body" was identified by relatives, returned today to his awestricken family.

Klug supposedly was murdered August 22 last near Lake Station, this county. Georgian was sentenced December 5, 1914.

According to attorneys and officials, the fact that it was not Klug who was murdered will make no difference to Georgian. That a man was murdered was well established, they said, and the circumstantial evidence positively connected Georgian with the crime. Georgian, however, has continually denied his guilt.

Klug left home because of discouraging domestic conditions. Fearing arrest for desertion, he said, he made no effort to communicate with his family and a recent letter fro ma friend gave him his first intimation that he had been "murdered."

DENIAL THAT GERMANY FRUSTRATED MOVEMENT

Negotiations of 1912 for Anglo-German Peace.

Berlin Paper Publishes Article Purporting to Give Details of Movement for Purpose of Refuting Haldane's Statement.

London, July 19.—The Berlin Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung publishes what purports to be the details of the negotiations in 1912 looking to an Anglo-German reapproachment, in which Viscount Haldane, then British secretary of state for war, took a prominent part. The substance of the article is contained in a despatch from Berlin, received by Reuters' Telegram Company by way of Amsterdam, and the article is published "in order to disprove Viscount Haldane's statement that his efforts for peace were frustrated by Germany."

According to an official statement the Nord Deutsche Allgemeine Zeitung points Germany offered different forms of neutrality. The first draft of the treaty ran:

"Should one of the contracting parties become engaged in war with one or more powers, then the other contracting party shall adopt at least an attitude of benevolent neutrality and exert every effort to localize the conflict."

England declined to accept this and made the following counter proposal:

"England shall make no unprovoked attack on Germany and shall refrain from aggressive policy with regard to Germany. An attack on Germany forms the basis of no treaty, nor is such object aimed at in any combination to which England belongs, and England will not be a party to an arrangement which aims at such at attack."

The Remington or the Stewart people did it.

"We wanted to settle that difficulty by a peaceful conference. We could not.

"We have men working secretly on munitions of war. They are working under favorable conditions. They will continue to do that work unless the United States government forbids them to do so. That is the only thing that can stop them. It certainly is reasonable to suppose if there were any German influence behind this strike, those men would be affected as well as the men in Bridgeport."

GOMPERS ISSUES CALL.

Seeks to Have Conference With Leaders to Settle Dispute.

Washington, July 19.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced tonight that he had called a conference of officers of the International Association of Machinists to meet with him in Washington to consider the strike ordered at the Remington Arms & Ammunition Company's plant at Bridgeport, Conn.

In calling the conference, Mr. Gompers said it was his purpose to use every resource at his command to prevent a general strike.

"I have called the officers of the Machinists' International Union for a conference here," he said. "We will do everything possible to prevent the strike from spreading to the various unions of the workers and the Remington factory."

Despite reports from Bridgeport that negotiations had failed to bring about a settlement of the controversy between the Remington company and the labor leaders, officials of the Department of Labor declared tonight they believed an agreement would be reached in time to avert a general strike. Secretary Wilson said, however, that in the event the workers did walk out in force, he immediately would appoint conciliators in an attempt to bring about a peaceful settlement of the trouble.

Believes Foreigners Interested.

Mr. Gompers reiterated the charge that foreign interests had been sought to bring about labor troubles in the United States to check the exportation of war supplies to Europe. He declined to give details, remarking:

"I do not want to shut off my line of information by making it public at this time."

God has helped me. I don't think that I ever did wrong in my life."

Creen is partly paralyzed in his left arm and Frank's physician believes that this fact possible saved Frank's life, as Creen was unable to hold him while he used the knife.

Warden Smith said today Creen had spent much time recently reading the Bible.

Should Frank die, Creen possibly would be tried for murder. No decision has been reached as to what action will be taken if Frank recovers.

RESOLUTIONS TABLED

Georgia Penitentiary Committee Refused to Vote for Investigation.

Atlanta, Ga., July 19.—The penitentiary committee of Georgia, late today voted to table three resolutions which would have provided for a legislative investigation of the attack made on Leo M. Frank at the state prison at Milledgeville. Two resolutions calling for an investigation were introduced early today, and later Representative Campbell of Newnan introduced one providing that members of the lower house personally investigate the matter.

Members of the committee said they believed that William Creen, the convict who attacked Frank, alone was involved and that there was no negligence on the part of the prison officials.

Suspected of Larceny.

Frank Gerido, a young negro, was seen by Policemen W. R. Applebury and R. J. Thompson as he came out of an alley this morning about 2 o'clock with two boxes of cigars and a case of cigarettes in his possession. They suspected him of having stolen them and he was locked up at the police station to await further investigation. The officers found that a window in the rear of Bunting's drug store on Front street had been opened.

DON'T BE MISLED

Wilmington Citizens Should Read and Heed This Advice.

Kidney trouble is dangerous and often fatal.

Don't experiment with something new and untried.

Use a tested kidney remedy.

Begin with Doan's Kidney Pills.

Used in kidney troubles 50 years.

Recommended here and everywhere.

A Wilmington citizen's statement forms convincing proof.

It's local testimony—it can be investigated.

J. M. Lord, police officer, 613 S. Fourth St., Wilmington, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills are a very fine medicine for kidney trouble. I have taken them on several occasions, when my kidneys have not been acting as they should and I have always received splendid results. I can't recommend anything better."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy — get Doan's Kidney Pills — the same that Mr. Lord had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.
